Hi Hemant,

Greetings from Team Connectivity Solutions!

Please find attached master sheet consisting of IP Phone data, server & software details along with it we have shows the list of devices for which coverage is restricted.

A lot of IP phones serial numbers were duplicate which are filtered and provided fresh list with the start and go ahead so we can get the pricing from Cisco for renewal and share the same.

Please find attached the serial nos of the products which we could trace out from our database for your sup list and let me know if you have any serials which are not inculcated or is extra added to send the final quote

Hemant as discussed we have certain serials which are not supported due to Zero Coverage compliance of C products which needs to be added.

Looking forward for your revert to send the final prices to close this loop

As discussed most of the products mentioned in the serial nos shared are not in the name of Edelweiss a This needs to be changed. Also due to the new zero coverage policy of Cisco some of the products are in

While I have tried to reconcile the data from my end with all the license renewals as well would appreciate that we can quote for the same.

We don't want to quote for the products SKU wise rather we want to do it SERIAL nos wise.

I am coming to your office today at 06:30 pm can show you the data you tell me what to be done
